Professor Andrew Parkin, Professor of English at The Chinese University of Hong Kong, will deliver his Inaugural Lecture on Friday, November 29, 1991 at 5 pm in Lecture Theatre LT6 of the Lady Shaw Building at the University. In the lecture entitled "English and the Place of Poetry", Professor Parkin will first define literature and give a brief outline of English literature as a university subject. Professor Parkin will then comment on contemporary literary criticism and point out the place of poetry in literature and its study.

Professor Parkin graduated from Cambridge University and received his PhD degree from Bristol University in 1969. He joined the Department of English of the University of British Columbia, Canada in 1970 and was promoted to professorship in 1988. He was appointed as Professor of English in The Chinese University of Hong Kong in January 1991.
