一九八四年十二月六日

The Chinese University of Hong Kong held its Twenty-eighth Congregation for the conferment of first degrees in the University yesterday (December 6). In the absence of His Excellency the Chancellor, Sir Edward Youde, who was away, the Ceremony was officiated by the Pro-Chancellor, Sir Yuet-keung Kan. The Vice-Chancellor, Dr. Ma Lin, addressed the Congregation. Over 4,000 graduates, parents and guests attended.

This year, a total of 1,039 graduates were awarded Bachelor's degrees by the University. These included 248 Bachelors of Arts, 212 Bachelors of Business Administration, 254 Bachelors of Science, and 325 Bachelors of Social Science. The 28th Congregation also saw, for the first time, six part-time students receiving their degrees. All majoring in Social Work, they were the first batch of students admitted by the University's Part-time Degree Programmes established in 1981.

Higher Degrees for this year were already granted at the University's 27th Congregation which took place on October 18.
