The Chinese University of Hong Kong announces that the lecture on Some Reflections on How to Study Science scheduled to be given to Form 6 science students by Professor C.N. Yang this Saturday (February 19) at 11:15 a.m. at the University's Science Centre will be postponed to next Saturday, February 26. Admission will be restricted to students who have registered. The University apologizes for any inconvenience caused by the postponement, which has been made necessary by an unforeseen engagement taking Professor Yang away from Hong Kong.
