The Department of Anthropology of The Chinese University of Hong Kong will jointly sponsor a two-day WORKSHOP ON PANGU AND PANHU with the International Association for Yao Studies at the University on December 1 and 2, 1987.

Over thirty scholars of Yao studies from France, the United States of America, Australia and the Chinese Provinces of Hunan, Guangdong and Fujian will participate in the workshop. After the Workshop, participants will go to China to take part in the annual PANWANG FESTIVAL in Jiangyong Xian, the Hunan Province and visit the legendary Qianjia Dong (a place where, it is believed, the Yao ancestors had lived) as well as the woman masters of newly discovered "Woman's Writing".
