Professor David Gwilt, Professor of Music, The Chinese University of Hong Kong, will give his Inaugural Lecture in English on Friday, January 21, 1983 at 5 p.m. in C.K. Tse Room of the Elizabeth Luce Moore Library, Chung Chi College, The Chinese University of Hong Kong at Shatin. The topic of the lecture is "Talking about Talking about Music". The lecture is open to the public.

Professor Gwilt studied music at Cambridge University and was awarded the B. Music degree with distinction in composition in 1955. He taught music in the U.K. for many years serving with such prestigious institutions as the Winchester School of Art and International Cello Centre before he joined The Chinese University in 1970 as a Senior Lecturer in Music. He took up the Readership in 1978, and was appointed Professor of Music by the University in 1981.

In addition to teaching and research, Professor Gwilt is also actively involved in community service. He is a well-known figure in the local art scene as an enthusiastic practising musician, a versatile composer, and a popular columnist.
