PREMIERE BY HONG KONG'S FIRST MFA STUDENTS

The Chinese University of Hong Kong is showing the achievements of its first Master of Fine Arts (MFA) graduates: sculptor, Miss Camille Yeung Sau Ying and oil painter, Mr Li Yau Mang. The two MFA graduates are exhibiting their works at Hui's Gallery, New Asia College, CUHK until June 22.

Camille Yeung graduated from CUHK with a BA degree in fine arts. Specializing in sculpture, her works began to gain recognition when she won "The Most Promising Artist Award" in the Sculpture Division of Philippe Charriol Foundation, HK. Van lou, Chairman of the Hong Kong Sculptors Association and a notable sculptor, ranks Camille the first prominent female sculptor to be produced by Hong Kong.

Li Yau Mang received his Bachelor of Arts from the Department of Oil Painting of Guangzhou Academy of Fine Arts in 1991. He has had his works exhibited in China and Hong Kong in many occasions. His works are collected by many art galleries, public and private organizations.

CUHK is the first and the only university in Hong Kong offering MFA programme – normally a two-year programme confined to painting, sculpture, Chinese calligraphy and seal carving. The course requires thesis writing, seminars, non-art elective courses and professional practice during the study period. Students are also required to hold a graduation exhibition in their area of study.
