CUHK Received Audio-Visual Course from Italian Consulate General

The Chinese University of Hong Kong (CUHK) recently received from the Italian Consulate General in Hong Kong an audio-visual course of the Italian language.

The course, one of the most advanced didactic instruments available, is aimed at promoting the learning of the Italian language and culture and to raise the quality of Italian teaching in cultural institutions abroad.

At a brief presentation ceremony held in the University, Mr Federico Failla, Consul of the Italian Consulate General, presented the course to Professor Charles K Kao, the Vice-Chancellor of the University.

Since its inception in 1974, CUHK's Italian Studies programme has received various donations, including scholarships for students to pursue short-term courses in Italian language and/or culture at the Italian University for Foreigners at Perugia.
