New Teachers Poised for Their Career

428 teachers and would-be teachers have completed their professional training at the School of Education of The Chinese University of Hong Kong, and will help meet the rising demand for well-trained graduate teachers in Hong Kong, a spokesman of the University said yesterday.

The courses which members of the group have finished are divided into two categories: one-year full-time and two-year part-time (evening and day). They are being recommended to the University Senate for the award of the Diploma in Education.
