The Centre for Contemporary Asian Studies of The Chinese University of Hong Kong and the Goethe Institute (Hong Kong) will jointly organize a seminar entitled "Increased Longevity: History and Future Dimensions" to be held on Saturday, November 19 from 9:30 am to 12:30 pm in Room 125, Fung King Hey Building in the University. All are welcome.

The half-day seminar aims to introduce Western experience in dealing with various aging problems due to increased longevity. The Chinese experience will be discussed in historical and medical perspectives. Aging problems in China created partially by the birth control policy will also be explored.

Invited speakers at the seminar will include Professor Arthur Imhof from the Free University of Berlin in West Germany; Professor Lu Weishan and Professor Zeng Erkang from the Tongji Medical University of Wuhan; Mr Zhang Yagun, Deputy Commissioner of the National Commission of Aging, China; and Mr Xiao Zhenyu from the Research Centre of Aging, China. The seminar will be conducted mainly in Putonghua.

For enquiries please call the Centre for Contemporary Asian Studies of CUHK at 0-6952029 or 0-6952026.
