Preview of Painting Exhibition at The Chinese University Art Gallery

A preview of an exhibition of "Paintings by Yangzhou Artists of the Qing Dynasty from the Palace Museum" will take place tomorrow (November 23) at the Art Gallery, The Chinese University of Hong Kong. Mr. Xu Jiatao, Director of the Hong Kong Branch of Xinhua News Agency, will officiate at the opening ceremony.

The exhibits consist of one hundred paintings by eighteen representative artists who were active in Yangzhou in the late seventeenth to eighteenth centuries. Selected from the permanent collection of the Palace Museum in Beijing, these include well-known works as well as unpublished pieces. Most of the paintings are being exhibited in Hong Kong for the first time.

The exhibition will continue until January 9, 1985 at the Art Gallery. A fully illustrated catalogue has been published to accompany the exhibition and a lecture on the Yangzhou Masters given by experts from the Palace Museum will also be held at the Fine Arts Department of The Chinese University on November 27 at 3:45 p.m.

November 21, 1984.
