New Teachers Poised for Their Career

294 teachers and would be teachers have completed their professional training at the School of Education of The Chinese University of Hong Kong, and will help meet the rising demand for well-trained graduate teachers in Hong Kong, a spokesman of the University said yesterday.

The courses which members of the group have finished are divided into two categories: one-year full-time and two-year part-time (evening and day). They are being recommended to the University Senate for the award of the Diploma in Education.
