

4 pages

新聞稿 PRESS RELEASE

To News Editors
For Immediate Release

June 6, 1997

CUHK Holds Seminar on The Futures of Anthropology: Reflections on Anthropological Research and Teaching in South China

An international conference entitled, "The Futures of Anthropology: Reflections on Anthropological Research and Teaching in South China" will be held on June 10-11, 1997 at 2/F Cheng Ming Building, New Asia College of The Chinese University of Hong Kong.

The conference is co-organized by the Department of Anthropology and New Asia College. It will discuss in four aspects of socio-cultural Anthropology in South China: i) the assess of the strength and weakness of the historical development of Anthropology. ii) the Contemporary issues in Anthropology and their relevancy to research and teaching. iii) the comparison of the past, present research and teaching of Anthropology in different institutions, and a discussion on how anthropology can best contribute to the region in the future. iv) a round-up discussion on issues that must be considered in understanding the past, present and future of anthropology in South China.

*Enclosed: The programme of the seminar

For press enquires, please phone 2609-7670 of The Department of Anthropology.

P.1.