新聞稿 PRESS RELEASE

The Council of The Chinese University of Hong Kong announced today that the service of Dr. Ma Lin, Vice-Chancellor of the University, has been extended beyond his present term of office for two years, that is, until September 30, 1987.

The Chairman of the Council, Dr. the Hon. Q.W. Lee, said that in extending Dr. Ma's service the Council fully recognized his valuable and outstanding contributions to the University during his Vice-Chancellorship. Of particular mentions are the smooth integration of the University following its reorganization set in motion by the Report of the Second Fulton Commission in 1976, and the successful build-up of the new Medical Faculty, which would turn out its first batch of medical graduates in 1986.

Dr. Lee said that Dr. Ma's present term of office would expire on September 30, 1985 when he would have reached the normal retirement age of 60 and the Council is very pleased that Dr. Ma has decided to accept the offer of the Council to extend his service for two years.
